MINIMUM CHARGE POLICY

Auslan Services apply a minimum charge to every booking. This is the minimum fee that is payable by you. Additional costs will be incurred at the 2-hour point of a booking and is charged at 15-minute increments thereafter. This policy exists to secure a better remuneration for employees, particularly as the industry is a casualised workforce. In University and TAFE settings, there are often times where an employee is required to work with different students. A different student will constitute a new booking.

OH&S

The welfare of an interpreter is a primary consideration and national OHS standards mandate that in many settings 2 interpreters must be employed to work in tandem to reduce physical and mental fatigue. A level of discretion is used on a case by case basis when determining how many interpreters are required and considers length of appointment, speed and content of interpretation, number of scheduled breaks, and number of Deaf and hearing clients.

TRAVEL EXPENSES

Auslan Services charges travel expenses for bookings that are 40 kilometres or more from the nearest CBD GPO, and where a locally based interpreter cannot be sourced. The distance of the appointment is predetermined using <https://www.google.com.au/maps> predetermining the distance and time taken to travel to and from the assignment, every client will know in advance what travel charges will be applied (if applicable). In addition, for every kilometre travelled, a 66-cent fuel levy is paid.

ADDITIONAL EXPENSES

Some bookings may require additional expenses such as car parking, flights, accommodation, meal allowance (refer ATO) and time away from home allowance. These costs will be negotiated in advance of the booking being confirmed.

CANCELLATION

When appointments are cancelled at short notice, it is often difficult for the employee to find a new appointment. In consideration of this, all bookings (excepting education) cancelled within 48 hours of the start time will incur the full cost of the booking. This 48-hour period does not include public holidays and weekends.

All education bookings (student classes) cancelled within 24 hours of the booking start time will incur the full cost of the booking. This 24-hour period does not include public holidays and weekends.

FAILURE TO ATTEND

If the Deaf client does not arrive within 30 minutes of the scheduled start time, the Auslan Services employee must report this to the booking office where appropriate enquiries will be made. If it is established that the client has not communicated any reason for being late, and that 30 minutes of the start time have expired, the employee is permitted to take leave from the assignment and will be paid in full. The employee is unable to accept any other non-related duties or new assignments unless another booking is made through Auslan Services.
